Henry's Small Game Carbine is fitted with Skinner's solid steel rear base and fully adjustable aperture (with .096" insert or .200" ghost ring option) specifically dimensioned to line up perfectly with the tall brass bead front sight for easy zeroing, greater visibility, and more precision when it's needed. Henry retained the American walnut stock, classic octagon barrel, and versatile utility in all three standard .22 rimfires, the Long Rifle, Long, and Short to cover everything from trapline to tree-top and beyond; and added a cold-weather, glove-friendly, over-sized large loop lever to this trim four-season hunter. Easy through the brush, quick on target, and fast on follow-up, the Small Game Carbine is a serious hunting lever gun for serious lever gun hunters
