Built for those who demand absolute reliability in the most unforgiving environments, this magazine combines rugged durability with precision engineering. When the stakes are high, your equipment shouldn't be a variable.

Hard-Use Resilience: Featuring Nitrided steel construction topped with an Elite Cerakote finish, this magazine is armored against corrosion and abrasion. It is designed to survive harsh climates and high-volume use without compromise.

Precision Feeding: Every setup is unique, which is why the adjustable feed lips are a game-changer. Fine-tune your magazine to your specific platform to eliminate feeding issues before they ever occur.

Silent Operation: Sound discipline is critical. The integrated polymer bottom plate absorbs impact and dampens noise during loading and tactical handling, keeping your profile low and your movements quiet.

Unhindered Mobility: The low-profile, snag-free design ensures you move with fluid grace. With virtually no catch points, the magazine won't hang up on your plate carrier, brush, or surrounding vegetation.

Total Focus: A smooth bottom surface allows for seamless reloads and rapid repositioning. Transition between targets and maneuvers without the distraction of gear interference.
