

Magazine Base Pad for Arex Zero 1, Zero 2, Alpha^{1/2}Speed Line - Magazine Base Pad for Arex Zero 1, Zero 2, AlphaSpeed Line (Silver)

The Base Pad for Rex Zero1 or Rex Alpha does this best; improve magazine handling speed and precision of your Rex pistol. It also adds +1 round to increase the magazine capacity from 18 to 19 using the stock magazine springs, but the superb handling and grip is what truly makes this base pad a worthwhile upgrade. The bottom of this plate is flat with a special gripping tape for excellent grip and longer lifespan since the bottom of the magazine usually takes the most damage when dropped in dynamic sports such as IPSC. Precise cuts and grooves are machined across 3 sides to aid in the fastest and most precise reloads with one hand. All these details contribute to a very solid grip. No other modifications nor any special tools are required for installation. The base pad joins to the magazine with a tight fit. True tool-less disassembly. Made from aircraft grade, 7075 aluminium.
